"To Hell with Culture": Eric Gill on Work and Art

When will revolutionary leaders realize that 'culture' is dope, a worse dope than religion; for even if it were true that religion is the opiate of the people, it is worse to poison yourself than to be poisoned, and suicide is more dishonourable than murder.

To hell with culture, culture as a thing added like a sauce to otherwise unpalatable stale fish!

Eric Gill, Craftsman (1882-1940)
